Once more the Gould Academy Outing Club successfully staged the annual winter carnival. With everything planned to the minutest detail, events started off on Friday afternoon with the cross-country over Gould's rugged course. The teams competing were Lebanon, New Hampshire, University of New Hampshire Freshmen and the Gould Huskies. The winner of this grueling test was James Carr of Lebanon with Ed Burnham following him. During this ski event two basketball games were being held in the field house. Gould's varsity basketballmen topped ped Bridgton for another league win.

Friday night saw the climax of many weeks of frantic rehearsals as Mr. T's proteges put on the annual three one-act plays. The first, "Bird On The Wing," portrayed a teenager whose ideas on becoming a lady are soon brought down to her own her age level. The second, "The Informer," was a tense melodrama in the days when Ireland was breaking away from the mother country, England. Lastly, "The Palmer Way," told of a meek man taking a personality course to give him enough courage to ask his boss, who is coming to dinner, for a raise.

After these successful performances, everyone went to the skating rink for the long awaited moment of the coronation of the carnival queen. Escorted by the ski team and the members of the court, the queen of the 1954 carnival, Mary Ellen Douglass, was crowned by Mr. Ireland on the large snow throne at the end of the rink. He presented her with a silver bracelet, a gift of the outing club. Then each member of the ski team went up, knelt down and was royally knighted by the queen. After the court marched out, Mary Ellen was swarmed with well wishers.

The next morning's events were held at Swan's Corner. The downhill race got underway at 10 o'clock under good but fast conditions. Roger Dion of Lebanon streaked his way down the narrow course in almost record time to win the event with Lamonthie of UNH following him. First for Gould was Bart Larrow in third place.

Immediately after the downhill slalom course was set and each man had two runs. James Carr became a double winner when he whizzed through the trick course to take the event. Second was Collins of UNH and third Herbie Adams of Gould.

In the afternoon the final event was held at the jump. Gould's Ed Burnham made three beautiful jumps, all over 100 feet; however, the perfect form and distance of Roger Dion gave him first place, also becoming a double winner. Second in the jump was Ed Burnham with Bart Larrow and Herbie Adams, both of Gould, with third and fourth, respectively.

Returning to the campus, everyone gathered in the dining room for cocoa and cookies while Mr. Ireland gave out the individual awards. He also presented the trophy to the winning team, Lebanon, with Gould placing second and UNH third.

Another highlight was the judging of the class sculptures. The judges had a hard time but finally decided that first place should go to the sophomores with their igloo and husky dog. Climaxing this wonder winter week end was the carnival ball held in the William Bingham gym at 8 o'clock. Sandra

Editorial Board Chosen

The editorial board for the Academy Herald has been announced and members are diligently gathering data and filling their various assignments. The position of editor-in-chief of the 1954 issue, a job involving much responsibility, has been delegated to Priscilla Eames. Under her, she has a capable staff. The advertising is being taken care of by Joan Bennett, manager, Mary Kneeland, Mary Douglass, and Nesta Gordon; Donna Anderson, Dorothy Bartlett, Jeri Brown, Mary Patrick, and Nancy Taillon are handling the sales end.

Photographer for the Herald is Blue and Gold photographic editor and president of the Camera Club, David Vincent. The position of exchange editor has been filled by Bertha Taylor, and the Alumni news is being ferreted out by Marlene Marshall.

Those cute little nothings about individual underclassmen are being written this year as follows: Nancy Bales and Fred Feltner, freshman notes; Valerie Kelch, sophomore notes; Patricia Allen, junior notes. The committee for senior personals is Val Stevens, chairman, Sandra Hatch, Sarah Dolloff, Nancy Carver, and Ruth Bishop. Faculty sketches are being done by Mary Patrick. The dope on Holden Hall and Gehring Hall is being collected and put into writing by Bill Daley and Gail Waldron respectively.

Write-ups on our major organizations are distributed as follows: Student Council, Shirley Mason; Athletic Council, Barbara Hulbert; Dramatics, Mary Hewitt; Musical Organizations, our maestro, Frank Flint; Camera Club, Carter Taylor; and Blue and Gold by its editor Mary Anne Myers. In the sports field Carroll Melville, captain of the football team has charge of the football resume; Peter St. Lawrence, cross country; Richard Onofrio, basketball; Lionel Coulombe, baseball; Paul Fossett, track; Alan Chase, winter sports as a whole; and the girls' and boys' physical education ably covered by Mary Belle Bennett and Al Barth, respectively.

The commencement section, although it still seems a date far in the future, is being covered by Helen Holt. Typists are Beverly Onofrio and Alberta Baker; financial advisor, Mr. Hillier; faculty advisor, Mr. Fossett.

As carnival time approached, and along with it the curtain date of the three one-act plays produced and directed by Mr. (John Huston) Thompson.

The plays this year were "The Informer," a story of violence and intrigue, "The Palmer Way," the hilarious transformation of a meek little man into a demanding brute, and "Bird in Hand," a delightful teen-age comedy. The casts of these plays are as follows:

The Informer
Mrs. McPhillip—Suzanne Stowell
Mary McPhillip—Dale Stevens
Pete, the rot—Peter St. Lawrence
Kate Fox—Nancy Taillon
Dan Gallagher—Bill Hoag
Gypo Nolan—Al Barth
Bartley Mulholland—Robert Blake
Tommy Corner—Bill Coolidge

Bird in Hand
Baleria—Hallie Stevens
Ellie Vincent—Kay Dorey
Mr. Vincent—Fred Fanning
Susan Vincent—Carolyn Weymouth
Mrs. Vincent—Eetty Ann But-

Hatch and her committee had transformed it into a place of streamers and ski murals with a large wire figure of a skier hanging from the ceiling. Leading the grand march was Mary Ellen, the queen, and her court of attendants composed of Mary Anne Myers, Brita Myhrman, Mary Hewitt, and Donna Anderson. For a variety we had the elimination dance with many different items. David Gove and Ruth Mordecai won this when Al Barth went down with his crew cut. The winners then started the multiplication dance. Also on the program were several versions of the John Paul Jones. Lloyd Rafnell and his orchestra played for this gala crowd with slow and fast music. Delicious refreshments were served by the boys made up of ginger ale and grape juice and cookies. At 11:30 the crowd dispersed, thus ending a perfect weekend.

Many thanks should be given to the outing club and the committees for putting on such a successful carnival. Thanks also go to the checkers who did much to help with the ski events, Mr. Thompson who did a great job with the plays and finally to Mr. Richardson, the club's advisor, for keeping everything on an even keel and seeing that things went off the way they should.

Roman Holiday

At 5:00 on Friday, January 22, 1954, the magnificence of an ancient Roman banquet was brought to life by Miss Kimball's second year Latin class. The Home Ec. Cottage served as a dining hall for the Caesar's and Cleopatras'.

All the members invited to this gala affair were garbed in the proper Roman dress; the females were attired in robes of various sorts, jewelry, and bright colored scarves, while the opposite sex arrived draped in their white togas of manhood.

The banquet commenced with the proper customs of the day: invocations to all the Dieties, sacrifices to the household divinities, the flag salute and Lord's Prayer. Everyone ate reclining comfortably upon mattresses while the foods and wine were served by slaves. First the gustus (appetiser) was served consisting of eggs, olives, radishes, cheeses and breads. Following was the cena (main course) of asparagus sticks, potato chips, and lamb chops. The secunda mensa (dessert) of bananas and dates concluded the meal.

During the cena, the entertainment for the evening began. Songs in Latin were sung, poems were recited and stories of the Roman customs were read by Miss Kimball.

At 7:00 the banquet ended, the first to be held by Miss Kimball's class.

ters
Sonny Roberts—David Lord.
The Palmer Way
Joe Breene—Carmen Pettapiece
George Mumford—Wendell Bragg
Ellen Mumford—Barbara Jordrey
Mr. Cooper—Van Gale
Mrs. Cooper—Jo Durham
The musical program furnished also is worth noting. The following people will appear between and before acts:
Band—The Blue Room
The Riff Song
Ray Nowlin—Baritone—Over the Rainbow. Frank Flint—Accompanist
Carla Grover—Sonata—Piano
"Temp di Ballo"
Robert Lord—Clarinet—"Trees"
David Lord—Piano
For those who prefer mystery mixed with hilarity, G. A.'s amateur dramatists spiced the Carnival Weekend with an entertaining variation from the sporting events, from which "The Informer" has been chosen to represent Gould at the tournament.

F-l-a-s-h

On Tuesday, January 19, the Camera Club had a photo contest with seven pictures entered. Dave Vincent the president of the club won first prize with an aerial picture which he took of Colby College near his home in Waterville. Paul Fossett took second and third places with a picture of a wave breaking over the rocks near his summer camp and a picture of a lighthouse. Other pictures were of a cat on a bookcase and of a small boy talking to Santa Claus.

Among the interesting meetings that the Club has had in the last few weeks were talks on the Kodak flexichrome process and on the taking of portraits. Both were given by Mr. Foster, and enjoyed very much by the Club.

C'est Si Bon Chez Pigalle

January 23, 1954, the William Bingham Gymnasium was transformed into a French nightclub. Pigalle—as the French Club threw a gala soiree—a party.

After a few moment at the "bureau de change" when everyone's money was converted into francs, the night clubbers entered the interior of Chez Pigalle and were met by the headwaiter, who immediately handed them a menu of French foods—including red and white "wine", French bread and cheese, and pastries, and showed them to their reserved tables. The tables arranged around the dance floor were covered with white table cloths and each table had its candle in its own unique holder.

The atmosphere in itself was very Parisienne: French records were played for dancing, and a host of waiters hovered attentively, awaiting orders.

With the spotlight on them, Hallie Stevens and Raymond Coulombe gave Eartha Kitt's version of "C'est Si Bon" in pantomime, greeted by a storm of applause and whistles. The audience begging for more, they obliged with "Stairway to Paradise."

All during the evening dancing was enjoyed by some while others played cards, chatted and kept the waiters busy.

Master of Ceremonies, Lionel

Coulombe, then asked for the attention of all and in danced six beautiful chorus girls doing the French Can-Can most energetically. The audience went wild and after a moment they came back on again and did a short encore. The words to express their exhibition are "C'est si bon!"

During intermission songs such as "Alouette" and "La Vie en Rose" were sung by the patrons of Chez Pigalle and who should be "a la piano" but Mr. David "Straight from Paris" Thompson and with him the can-can girls and six lone wolves from the audience. Oo-la-la!

The costumes worn to "la soiree" varied from French mountain climbers to skiers to Paris models making the dance floor a colorful scene.

To conclude the evening of night clubbing there was more dancing and as the party began to break-up everyone agreed to its originality and success, a credit to Miss Hale and her crew of able helpers.

The Best Things In Life Are Free

You hear this phrase many times, but actually we wonder how many people probe into its deeper meaning and really find out about it.

In the first book of the Bible we read of the creation of the earth. True, but has the majority of our population really ever noticed the beauty of our surroundings? We doubt it! The human race is too wrapped up in its own problems to let its minds wander into imaginative courses and, by doing so, we just create a turmoil within ourselves. In the days of our forefathers all these things were noticed as well as being part of their every day life. Today, however, the foremost thought in almost everyone's mind seems to be "Go-Go-Go!" To do this, as we all know, it takes money and lots of it! Many people have this substance and can have their wishes granted in no time. Others of us are not so fortunate, but we have to "keep up with the Joneses" and strain at our financial bindings until they snap, leaving nothing.

We could prevent this easily by determination and willpower. Of course, the first thing to do if you were able would be to go out and earn some money. Other times, just because Bill wants to see a movie doesn't mean you have to, even though you've been hearing things about it that arouse your interest! Sure, you may feel embarrassed, but there will be other movies probably even better than those you've missed.

When a person's soul is in a great turmoil over problems: you can't decide what to do about your girlfriend, your marks worry you, you're physically tired, your job is at stake, and you just plain want to forget your worries, most of us get together a few dollars and splurge on drinks, a night out with the boys, take in a show or something of that nature; when you return home, you feel worse than before and you're out the price of a worthless evening.

Why not sit down and talk your problems over with your parents or a close friend? Why not let your mind relax and think of imaginary things such as: What would I do with a million dollars? Where would I go if I could take a trip? Why? Make a list of all the things that are bothering you and then set out to improve your weaknesses. Later dig them out and see how you've done.

Take a walk in the woods and enjoy the works of nature. It doesn't cost anything, you know! To be near this serenity helps put you at ease with the world as well as yourself.

When you emerge from this place of peace you wonder how humans can live in such a mixed up world. And yet life goes on. Each person's troubles seem to pile up in front of him until there seems to be no end. People today can't get along without pleasure (if that's what you want to call it) received from money.

Always resort to prayer if you have no other ways of help. It doesn't cost a thing to pour out your troubles to Someone who you know will listen with an open mind. Keep your wits about you and trust in God! Remember, the best things in life are free.

NANCY CARVER

Nancy Carver, or "Carver-babe" as she is affectionately addressed by her friends, has been at Gould four years, during which time her sense of humor and friendly personality have made her a campus favorite. She is a live-wire, and her tow-head and white bucks can be spotted most anywhere where there's excitement.

Sports are her forte, although her name appears frequently on the honor roll, and she and her trusty "Atties" frequent both ski hills. She is also an energetic hiker and tennis player, and her contortions on the rings in gym class have kept the seniors doubled up with laughter during four years. In line with her athletic abilities, she has served efficiently on the A. A. council as secretary during her sophomore year and as class representative in her junior year, and is at present the secretary-treasurer of the Outing Club.

"Carver-babe" is an amateur mechanic repairman of clocks and cigarette lighters, and a crackerjack chauffeur, her green Ford often spied enroute to P. F. meetings.

Nan is no "glory girl"; in fact, she's quick to give the other fellow all the credit, but

SKIP MELVILLE

Carroll "Skip" Melville first saw the light of day on February, 27, 1936, in North Conway, New Hampshire, the son of Charles and Mildred Melville.

The family soon moved to Locke Mills, Maine, where Skip received his elementary schooling.

At Gould Skip has been especially active in sports. As of this fall he has received six letters winning his varsity sweater. He has won three letters in football and as we all know was captain of the football team last fall; he has also received two letters in basketball and two in baseball.

He was installed as a member of the National Honor Society during his Junior year.

His hobbies are outdoor sports with hunting topping the list.

Skip is undecided about his future plans; we know whatever he does he will excel in it, as in everything he has done here at Gould.

she's always there in the background, dependable, ready, and willing to do her share. Her college plans are uncertain as yet, but she will undoubtedly make a hit wherever she goes.

Wheaton College

Old and well-established Wheaton College received its first students in 1835. It was erected and financed by a man as a living memorial to his daughter.

Wheaton was first established as a seminary for women and remained a seminary until 1912, when its president succeeded in gaining the authorization of a general court, which enabled it to become a full-fledged college and to henceforth grant degrees.

Many things have happened since 1912 and it is now a highly-respected, well-known college, not that it wasn't before, of course, because it is historical also. Wheaton was the first institution granted a college charter within the limits of the original territory controlled by the Pilgrim fathers.

Wheaton offers a liberal arts course flavored with many non-compulsory subjects.

Community life on and off the campus is pleasant. The religious life of the college centers around the beautiful Cole Memorial Chapel. The students and faculty are members of the college government association. There are other "Clubs" also: The Christian Association, the drama association, the Athletic association, the college choir, and the orchestra. There are also school publications for those with a flair for writing: Wheaton News, Rushlight, and the annual, Nike.

The dorm life is pleasant also. Rooms come in singles, doubles, triples, and quadruples; so you have your choice of either solitude or a crowd.

The basic requirement for entrance is merely to be a candidate for the A. B. degree. They do not insist on stating the exact number of points or specific courses that should have been taken in high school, but they highly recommend that a student plan her program so that she will have four academic courses each year. Experience has shown that a student is best prepared for college work by the study of English, Mathematics, history, an ancient and modern foreign language, and a laboratory science.

To aim for Wheaton, that small, independent college in the town of Norton, Massachusetts, is to set your sights high. There are only three girls taken from Maine each year, but a good education is guaranteed and it never hurts to aim high.

THE ALL-SEEING EYE

Well, the skiers have had a couple good days of skiing, but it isn't like the old days, is it skiers?

I wonder if those two Junior girls in third period study have found those desks down front very comfortable?

Good going Mary! Not very many people have strength enough to break a great big comb like Pat's.

Ge. I must admit I never thought those huge piles of snow would turn into snow sculptures.

From the looks, we've got some girls that are going to become real professionals on the tramp. Right Silvia! Kay!

In case the Seniors don't know it they have a very energetic little bee or should I say Bev that works on the snow sculpture even at night during a basketball game.

It's okay, Barbara! None of the rest of us can master typing either.

Many girls are enjoying skiing, taught by Mr. Myers and Mr. Richardson.

Basketball teams have been chosen and two games played every afternoon. Class teams will be chosen soon.

This year's three top bowlers are Alberta Baker, Babe Bartlett, and Ann Hastings.

X-CHANGE

We always enjoy seeing pictures in a school paper. Papers like the Deering "Ramblings," Edward Little's "Station E. L. H. S.," "The Hebronian" from Hebron Academy and others. One of our most recently acquired exchanges, "The Lassell News," from Auburndale, Massachusetts, already has its pictures of their "Snow ball Queen" Candidates on their front page.

Hebron Academy, while celebrating its 150th anniversary, puts pictures and interesting articles about various assembly speakers on their front page. We always look forward to seeing this paper.

One paper which we haven't commented on recently is the "Maroon Oracle" from Lancaster, New York. This bi-weekly has some excellent reading. There is a long article telling of recent activities of each class. This gives the underclassmen, especially the freshmen, a better chance of getting their names in print.

Thanks to the Stephens' "High Broadcast," nine new exchanges have been added to our list of school papers. We like to receive new papers and the "Broadcast" gives us the name, address, and various comments on each paper.

We are happy to see that the "Broadcast," Deering's "Ramblings," "Station E. L. H. S.," etc., write up articles on girls' winter sports. We believe that this tends to increase interest in these sports.

"The Student Ticker" from Enfield, Connecticut, featured a very interesting article about a Mexican girl who is visiting Enfield High School.

Although there isn't too much snow Winter is here as we all must know.

Not a Gouldite should feel blue For there is very much to do. When they saw the first few flakes

They grabbed their skills, that's all it takes. Beginners and experts both are out

A fall is nothing to cry about. Just get up and start snow And the very best of luck to you.

Also a crowd is at the rink Skatin's not as hard as some may think. You've got to expect a few spills It may hurt but it never kills. Those who fear falling down! May walk a friend up town! Many, too, play basketball They just love the game that's all.

If none of these sports interest you There must be some studying you could do.

A book report or a grandfather theme Get them done early, you're on the team.

Gould Slaps Norway, 62-33

The first three quarters of the game between Gould and Norway at Norway were quite close as far as score, but high scoring by Paul Fossett, Merle White, and Gene White brought Gould way ahead of Norway for 62-33 game. The high scorer for Norway was Dick Dyer. The decisive victory was Gould's fourth straight win and put them alone at the top of the Sun-Journal League before the Christmas vacation.

OLD ORCHARD 55—GOULD 33

Old Orchard Beach High School, scoring heavily in the last two periods, dropped a determined Bethel 55-33. The Gould quintet was leading at the half by a slim margin of four points. They could not hold this lead, however, and the Seagulls grabbed the advantage early in the third period and never relinquished it.

High scorer for Old Orchard was Bob Fowler. The tall center led his team with 25 points. The Wyman brothers, each scoring 9 points, put the game away for Old Orchard.

Paul Fossett's sharp shooting netted 21 points for Gould but even this was not enough to turn the tide. Gene White, playing left forward accounted for eight points.

In the first period both squads fought equally, the canto ending knotted at 10 all. In the second period the Blue and Gold took a four point lead and the half ended in their favor 24-20. Scoring only twice in the third period Gould lost its lead and Old Orchard went ahead 28-30. In the last period the home team picked up 19 points to Gould's five to end the scoring and the game 33-55.

This was Gould's fourth loss in nine starts this season.

Gould Takes Two

Bridgton 58-49

A last period rally by Coach Anderson's basketballers at Bridgton High School on December 15, enabled them to make their Sun Journal League bow a winning one. Trailing 40-46 going into the last frame, the Huskies raced to an 18-3 margin to win 58-49.

The leading scorer of the game was Alan Douglas of Bridgton with nine goals and two fouls, but none of his mates reached double figures. Merle White and Phil Rowe led the invading forces as each hoopster netted sixteen points. Lanky Paul Fossett was the only other player with double figures as he netted five goals and two fouls.

Down one point at both the quarter and the half, the Gouldites found they had slipped off to a three basket deficit entering the final frame. The Bethel club soon tied the ball game at 48-48, then went on to score ten of the last eleven points of the contest. Starring on defense was diminutive Skip Melville. The Gould Jayvees won the preliminary contest 48-38 in a walk.

On Tuesday, February 2, Gould's basketball five took over Wilton's basketballers by a score of 36 to 41. The Gould five hasn't lost a game as yet to the Eastern Division teams. It made the second loss of the season for Wilton. For Gould, Co-Capt. Gene White and Paul Fossett were high scorers with 10 for White and 20 for Fossett. Skip Melville played a very good game for Gould. Getchell, Wilton's small but very fast forward, played a very good game. He, also led the Wilton pack in points with 17.

Mexico Clips G. A.

Mexico High School handed Gould their second defeat in the Sun-Journal League on Tuesday, January 19. The score for the game at the final buzzer was 54 to 45. Gould which had a very hard luck in both shooting and in handling the ball was behind all the way through the game. It took very little effort for Mexico's big Spider Watson to score 21 points while Gene Bordeaux tallied 20 points to be right behind him. For Gould cocaptains Gene White and Paul Fossett were high scorers. Gene had 11 points while Fossett had 16. Skip Melville and Howard Rolle were very helpful throughout the game on both offense and defense.

GOULD VS. LIVERMORE FALLS

On January 8 the undefeated Gould Academy cagers traveled to Livermore Falls to play a game which they were to win 44-41 after trailing by 7 points 32-25 the start of the final period. In this last quarter Gould poured on 19 points and held the home team to 9.

It was Merle White, high for the winners with 16, whose 9 points in the last frame helped close the gap. Paul Fossett and Gene White had eleven and ten points respectively.

For the losers it was Bailey who was high with 19 points. No other man was above seven points.

Both teams played well defensively and were about equally poor on the free throw line. Gould missed 20 out of 32 and Livermore Falls missed 28 out of 43.

It appeared as though Livermore might win the game despite being slight underdogs, but the Gould rally squelched all possibilities.

The Gould J.V.'s after being outplayed the entire game lost 30-41 after a second period rally by the home team understudies proved the difference. This was the Gould team's first defeat. Livermore Falls 5 17 27 41 Gould 6 15 29 44

SOUTH PARIS VS. GOULD

South Paris clubbed Gould in their second meeting January 26, at the Gould Academy cage by virtue of a last period surge to win 50-40. This victory kept the Cardinals tied for first place in the Western Division of the Sun-Journal league with Mexico High.

Leading hoopster of the night in the scoring column was Gould's Paul Fossett, who dunked in eight floor goals and six fouls for 22 points, but his support was some distance behind. The leaders for Paris were Jackson with nine goals and two fouls, and Alan Snow with ten points, barely reaching double figures.

The Blue and Gould's defense helped them keep a 12-6 edge at the quarter and a five point lead at half time. However, Paris caught up to lead 32-31 going into the final frame, and raced to victory by outscoring the host club 18-9 in the last quarter.

The Husky Pups romped easily to a 44-29 decision in the opener.

A CHANCE FOR TOURNAMENT PLAY

CARNIVAL HOOP THRILLER—BRIDGTON TIPPED 50-47

The Gould basketball team started their carnival weekend off with a bang as they beat Bridgton High's team in a thriller, 50-47, and got a bid in the regional tourney, to be held at Rumford.

This game proved a thriller and was well played by both teams, since both teams had a chance for the tournament. The first two quarters were see-saw affairs with both teams exchanging baskets. At the end of the first quarter it was eleven to ten in favor of Gould. At the end of the second it was twenty-seven to twenty-four still with Gould leading. In the first few minutes of the third period it looked as though Gould was finally gaining the edge as they began pulling away and had a sizeable lead, only to have Bridgton close the gap back up with their big center popping them in from out front, making it thirty-seven all at the close of the third.

The complete fourth period was played like a sudden death over time as both teams tried to gain a lead. Bridgton went ahead forty-three to forty, but Rowe of Gould popped two field goals to make it forty-four to forty-three. Foul shots by Gould's

Paul Fossett, who was high scorer for the game with twenty points, and Lee Merrill of Bridgton made it forty-seven all. Fossett then sank another free throw and Gene White made it 50-47 after driving around the defense for a lay-up.

Merle White followed Fossett's twenty points with eleven for the winners and Johns was high for the losers.

The Gould J. V.'s won the prelim 48-31.

GOULD OUTSKIED BY LEBANON IN CARNIVAL MEET

Lebanon, N. H., High School took two out of three events Saturday to beat the Huskies by a margin of 10.74 points. Gould had built up a six point lead Friday by taking the cross country, but Saturday saw Roger Dion of Lebanon take the downhill and jumping and his teammate James Carr win the slalom. Lebanon totalled 378.28 points, to win, Gould 367.54, and University of New Hampshire Freshmen 344.12 points to place third.

In the cross country Friday afternoon James Carr of Lebanon led the field in running the course in 21:34 minutes. Close on his heels and only five seconds behind was Herbie Adams of Gould with a time of 21:39. Gould's Ed Burnham placed third with 22:19 and Letson of Lebanon was fourth, Verne Corkum, Pete St. Lawrence and Ken Rafuse, placed fifth, sixth and seventh respectively for Gould. Coach Paul Kalley's skiers totalled 96.44 points to take first place, Lebanon with placed second with 90.6 points and U. N. H. placed third with 75.91 points.

The downhill was run on Saturday morning and provided plenty of thrills for the spectators. Roger Dion of Lebanon led the field in running the steep half-mile run in the near record time of 59.2. Lemothe of U. N. H. placed second with a time of 60.4. Bart Larrow of Gould took third, only one-tenth of a second behind Lemothe, with 60.5, James Carr of Lebanon finished ed fourth and P. Hastings of U. N. H. fifth. U. N. H. Frosh placed first in the team totals by collecting 97.93 points. Lebanon finished second with 97.46 points and Gould was third with 86.17 points.

After the downhill came the slalom run. Again Lebanon took first when James Carr ran the zig-zag course in 60.2 seconds. Each skier had two chances at running the difficult course and Carr took only 29.29 seconds for his first run. Collins of U. N. H. took second, two seconds behind Carr, with 62.9. Gould's Herbie Adams and Bart Larrow took third and fourth with times of 63.6 and 64.5. Dion of Lebanon paced fifth for his team. Team totals for the slalom were Lebanon 92.45, first; Gould, 88.51, second; and U. N. H., 86.89, third.

Saturday afternoon saw the jumping contest at Swan's Corner. Again Lebanon placed first by only one point over Gould. Ed Burnham of Gould made the three longest jumps of the day at 101 feet each but the perfect form of R. Dion of Lebanon enabled him to take first place. Dion picked up 232.9 points to finish first and Burnham placed second with 227.2 points. Bart Larrow took third with 224.2 points and Herbie Adams was fourth with 220.8 points. Letson of Lebanon placed fifth. Team totals for the jumping were Lebanon 97.77, Gould 96.42, and U. N. H. 83.39.

CAGERS BREAK LOSING STREAK BY SMOTHERING NORWAY 71-41

Coach Anderson's basketball team had little difficulty in dropping Norway to end a five game losing streak. Gould took an early lead in the first period and lengthened it at every turn of the game. It was the Blue and Gold's sixth win against five losses for the season and was their third win in the Sun Journal League with three losses.

Just about everyone figured in the scoring and the starting five all scored in double digits. High scorer for Gould was Merle White who netted 20 of the team's points. Paul Fossett and Gene White each scored 13 points and Skip Melville and Phil Rowe added 10 each.

High scorer for Norway was Bob Greenleaf who racked up 19 points, mostly on a dead set shot.

In the first period Gould took an early lead and by the end of the period was leading 14-8. Scoring 18 points in the second period Gould increased its lead to 32-16 at the half.

The third quarter told the story, for the Huskies scored 24 points to Norway's 9, upping the score to 56-27. The last quarter was relatively even as the Blue and Gold only outscored Norway by one point to end the game 71-41.

The J. V. game was won by Gould 39-31.

EDWARD LITTLE CARNIVAL

The Gould skiers edged out Edward Little by half a point January 29-30, to gain their second leg on the coveted trophy. Other schools competing in the two-day affair were, in the order of their finishing, Berlin, N. H., Stephens of Rumford, and Farmington.

The outstanding individual was by far Gould's captain, Herb Adams, who took a first in both the downhill and cross-country, a second place in slalom, and third in the jumping competition. Leading the Edward Little performers in every event was Jack Bennett, who nailed down a first in the jumping, a second in the downhill, third in cross-country, and fourth in slalom. Ed Burnham, who did well in his first attempt at skiing all four events, garnered two second place medals, a third, and a seventh.

Because of lack of snow in Auburn, the Alpine events were transferred to Pleasant Mountain, Eridgton. The Eddies won the day's competition by sweeping both events and held a slim one point margin going into Saturday's competition. However the Gouldites downed the Eddies by three points in the langlauf, taking their only event of the meet. Although the Kailenmen could do no better than third in the last of the Nordic events, the red and white could not overcome their two point lead.
